AVAILABILITY OF STADIUM FOR FALL USE DEPENDS ON STUDENT SUPPORT

Plans Will Be Drafted
By March 1; Work
May Begin Then

FUNDS NECESSARY TO START LABOR

President Urges Student
Co-Operation
Thru County Groups

Availability of the proposed S. I. T. C. stadium for athletic contests next fall will, according to President Roscoe Pulliam, depend upon the speed with which funds are raised for the financing of the project. All students are requested to cooperate with their county group officers in this financing plan.

According to word received by Edward W. Miller, Jr., and Captain William McAndrews, who in Springfield last week the stadium plans will be revised and drafted by the state architect's office not later than March 1. It is possible that these plans may be finished during January, but this is considered unlikely because of the overworked condition of the architect's office. As soon as the plans have been finally revised, work will begin here if sufficient funds have been raised.

In the event that the plans are completed and work begun here, the stadium will probably be completed by September 1. Requirements on the project are that it must be completed within ten months after work is begun.

County chairmen urged their group members Monday morning to secure the names of more possible contributors to the stadium fund. The list to be added to the list of approximately 1000 already received. Groups were divided into towns, or townships in the case of large groups, with chairmen in charge of each small division. This is being done in order to facilitate the gathering of names. Each division chairman is being held responsible for the work of those from his town.

Twenty-eight men will also work on the Works Progress Administration project which calls for the leveling and landscaping of the athletic field. The total fund allotted for this project was $4,874, while the men months of labor to be used total 55.

MU TAU PI GROUP TO HEAR FAMOUS EXMMS EDITORIAL

Reading of one of the world's most famous Christmas editorials, which appeared in the New York Sun several decades ago, will feature the program of the weekly meeting of Mu Tau Pi tomorrow afternoon at the home of Frances Neel, 1934-35 president.

Also at the meeting, tribute will be paid to Marjorie Brown, for three years an active member of the honorary journalistic fraternity. Miss Brown will leave immediately after the holidays for Nashville, Tennessee, where she will attend George Peabody University.

Dr. C. H. Cramer gave an informal talk on "The Freedom of the Press" at the regular Mu Tau Pi meeting Thursday afternoon at the Patterson home, with Miss McNeill as hostess. Following the lecture, a lively discussion session was held.

McIntosh Article Appears in Music Educators Journal

An article, "A Challenge to All Music Educators," written by David S. McIntosh, head of the Music Department here, appears in the November and December issue of the Music Educators Journal.

The article is an answer to a paper, published in a previous issue of the magazine, which criticized the state of colleges and universities. McIntosh declared that the music of the high schools is superior to that of the colleges and churches. In his article, Mr. McIntosh discussed the reasons for this situation. He explained that, in many cases, those who have been trained in high school fall to participate in church choirs and college musical organizations.

1936 Obelisk Will Contain Campus Leaders And Beauties Chosen by Student Body Vote

Definite Plans Will Be Announced Later;
Martha Jean Langenfeld Named As
Obelisk Freshman Editor

This year's edition of the Obelisk will contain two new features, a campus beauty section and a student leader section.

Details of the new features have not been worked out completely, but according to Ellen Brock, Obelisk Editor, the general plan is as follows:

During the first week of school in January the student body will vote on the most beautiful girls in college. A certain number receiving the highest number of votes will have their pictures taken and sent to an artist, who will choose those she considers the four most beautiful. The photographs of these four will appear in the campus beauty section.

The student leader section will contain the pictures of the outstanding students on the campus. There will be probably twenty chosen, and again the student body will have most of the selective power.

Details of these features and contests will be announced in chapel.

And in the Egyptian immediately following the Christmas holidays.

Miss Martha Jean Langenfeld has been chosen freshman editor of the Obelisk. Miss Langenfeld was selected by Miss Ellen Brock from a list of freshmen recommended by their English teachers on the basis of outstanding work. The school council confirmed the appointment of Miss Langenfeld and the rest of the Obelisk staff at its meeting Friday afternoon.

A graduate of the Carbondale Community High School, Miss Langenfeld comes to S. I. T. C. highly recommended. During her junior and senior years she was news editor and assistant editor of the high school newspaper, "The Monitor." During her senior year she was chosen football queen, voted the most popular girl in school, and given the lead in the senior play, "Adam and Eve," the first Langenfeld is a member of the school council and last week-end was initiated into the Sigma Sigma Sigma society.

TO ESTABLISH CHILD STUDY CLINIC HERE

Direction Divided Between State And Local Officials

A periodical clinic for the study of children who show a tendency toward crime or other bad social adjustment is to be established on the S. I. T. C. campus. The clinic is to be conducted one week out of six by A. L. Bowen, director of the state department of Public Welfare, and the Institute for Juvenile Research in Chicago. A committee consisting of Dr. W. A. Thelma, Dean G. D. Whann, Dr. B. V. Merwin, and Dr. Marie Hirsch will have charge of the office every six weeks. The purpose of the research is to detect and remedy criminal tendencies in children before they become serious enough to engage the attention of the police and the courts.

These traveling clinics have been working in a few of the smaller schools for the last three years. The clinic for Southern Illinois was formerly held at Harrisburg, but the Harrisburg school board is willing to relinquish the clinic because it feels it will reach more people if it is conducted with the college here.

Y. M. and Y. W. to Send Delegates to Student Volunteer Movement

Both the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. on this campus are planning to send representatives to the twelfth biennial convention of the "Student Volunteer Movement," to be held in Indianapolis from December 28 to January 1. In addition to the campus groups, local churches will also send delegates.

The convention is attracting the attention of students all over the country. The purpose of the convention is to discuss modern questions of religious and social adjustment, in an attempt to arrive at some definite conclusions regarding them.

Among the leading speakers who will speak from the platform and conduct seminars are Reinhold Niebuhr, professor of applied Christianity at Union Theological Seminary; Dr. H. H. Wood, the archbishop of York; T. Z. Kuo, leader of Chinese students; Basil Mathews, professor of missions in Boston University; Toyohiko Kagawa, a religious, political, and economic leader of Japan; and John A. Mackay, secretary of the Board of Christian Missions of the Presbyterian Church.

At the seminar meetings topics of interest will be discussed, such as "The Christian Fellowship in Relation to Current Political Trends," "The Adequacy of the Christian Faith for the Modern World," "The Christian Fellowship and Industrial Problems," and "The Christian Fellowship in the World Tomorrow."

At the Modern Languages Association meet, to begin December 30, at Cincinnati, Miss Emma Boyer, Miss Frances Rayburn, Miss Mary Cramer, Miss Madeline Smith, and Miss Esther Power will be present. Miss Power will return to her home in Peabody, Massachusetts, before attending the meeting.

Two members of the History department, Dr. C. H. Cramer and Miss Barbara Thomas, will attend the meeting of the American Historical Association at Chattanooga, Tennessee, held December 30 to January 2. From Chattanooga Miss Baker expects to go to Florida to visit relatives.

Curriculum Committee Discusses College Entrance Requirements

At the regular meeting of the curriculum revision committee on December 10, the subject of college entrance requirements was fully discussed.

Miss Marjorie Shank had asked for a report of the committee's policy in regard to this matter, and the subject was continued yesterday under Miss Shank's leadership.

Another phase of the Committee's work is being carried on through the sub-committee in charge of Miss Frances Rayburn. The group has ranged to obtain copies of college entrance requirements through the loan system of the Congressional Library in Washington. The whole faculty committee will study these documents and discuss them at a future meeting.

Mr. F. C. Warren, head of the reorganization committee, plans to release some important data concerning the policies and conclusions of the committee in the near future. The committee has been deliberating for several months over the question of college curriculum revision and its application at S. I. T. C.

CO-OP SERIES BRINGS RALPH DOBBS TO S.I.T.C. TOMORROW NIGHT

Concert Pianist Has Received Praise From Critics
DOBBS POPULAR IN CHICAGO

Recital To Begin At 8
O'clock; Activity
Tickets Valid

Ralph Dobbs, concert pianist appearing on the Carbondale Co-operative Concert Association concert series, will give a solo recital in Shryock Auditorium tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. Activity tickets will admit students.

Dobbs is a pianist of remarkable ability, and has behind him an enviable list of triumphs. Following training with his parents and Alexander, he came to the attention of Percy Grainger. Grainger was so impressed by the young artist's genius that he selected him to appear as soloist in his Hollywood Bowl "Symphonies under the Stars."

In 1931 Dobbs won the Frederick Stock award which gave him the opportunity of appearing as soloist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra. The result was a tremendous popularity. Glenn Dillard Gunn of the Chicago Herald and Examiner declared, "He has tone, technique, temperament, musical certainty, and inspiring authority."

In addition to his many orchestral engagements, among which are the Los Angeles Philharmonic under Rodzinski and the Chicago Symphony under Stock, he has appeared in recitals in many of the leading cities of this country. Critics everywhere are enthusiastic about his ability, as shown by these extracts from various newspapers:

"Dobbs created a strikingly favorable impression. He has a solid and brilliant technique—a lovely and resourcefully used tone, a high degree of physical endurance, and the ability to play up tremendous climaxes of sound."—Leonard Liebman, "New York American."

"Dobbs is a pianist of marked ability with a well-trained pair of hands, plenty of poise and composure, and a musical mind that would seem to speak for itself."—Edward Moore, "Chicago Daily Tribune."

"He is possessed of rare agility and a spontaneity of emotion, and equipped with a technique beyond seeming demands, that stamped him as a virtuoso."—Bobby Burnett, "Los Angeles Herald."

"Dobbs revealed unusual talent. He has muscles of steel and can get a tremendous tone from the piano. Besides his strength and his bravura, he can play with delicacy and grace. The audience was exceedingly enthusiastic."—Pitts Sanborn, "New York World-Telegram."

Dobbs' program tomorrow evening will include:

Marjorie Brown, Soon to Enter George Peabody College, For Three Years Prominent In Activities Here

Outstanding in Dramatics, Music, Journalism and Literary Work on Campus

When Marjorie Brown leaves Car-bondale within the next few weeks to complete work on her Bachelor's degree at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee, S. I. T. C. will lose one of its prominent seniors and one of the most active students in school. She has taken part in jour-nalistic, dramatic, and social activi-ties on the campus and has contrib-uted her part musically by playing in the orchestra for three years.

Miss Brown has been a reporter on the Egyptian staff and served as society editor last year. She was one of the runners-up for this year's editorship of the paper and is a member of Mu Tau Pi, the journalis-tic fraternity on the campus. Last year she was feature editor of the Obelisk.

She has been an active member of the Zetetic Literary Society since the time she entered college, holding various offices in the organization and taking active part in its pro-grams.

Miss Brown is the daughter of W. O. Brown, head of the S. I. T. C. rural training schools depart-ment.

She also joined Strut and Fret, the dramatic club, during her freshman year, when Little Theatre was organized and took the place of that organization, she was one of the charter members. She has taken part in various dramatic productions including the Homecoming plays, "All's Fair" and "Tune In," and the Zetetic plays, "The Swan," and "Arms and the Man." Her portrayal of Catherine Petkoff in George Bernard Shaw's satiric comedy, "Arms and the Man" was probably her out-standing performance.

Miss Brown will be missed by every group of which she has been a member, not only because she is a capable worker, but because she has an ability for wit, irony, and sarcasm that enlivens any gathering. S. I. T. C. is losing an outstanding per-sonality and Peabody is to be con-gratulated on adding Miss Brown's name to its rolls.

Knobeloch Replaces Brashear As Secretary Of Little Theater

Erna Knobeloch was chosen secre-tary of the Little Theater society Thursday evening to replace Brashear Brashear, who recently resigned. Mr. Brashear, however retains his membership in the Little Theater group.

Miss Knobeloch, a junior, has been an active member of the society since its organization two years ago. She played in the society's annual play, "Three Corners Moon" as well as in the Homecoming plays of 1934 and 1935, "Tune In" and "Here We Are." She is also a member of the qualifications committee.

New members of the Little Theater entertained the older ones at a Christ-mas party Thursday evening in Strut and Fret Hall. Kate Burkhardt and Frank Thomas were in charge.

The evening was spent in acting out Christmas charades. Glen Pul-son guessed the most charades and was rewarded with a stocking filled with Christmas toys.

Poetry and Dramatic Clubs of U. High Guests At Party Tonight

A party for the Poetry and Dramatic clubs of the University High School is to be given by Miss Claire Patterson at her home this evening.

The following entertainment will be offered: piano solo by Miss Carol Fugate; readings by Ethel Fern At-wood and Miss Florence Wells; and a solo by Ralph Hamilton.

Raymond Neuhar, Mary Kathleen Miller, Vernon McCracken, and Claire Patterson are to serve on the reception committee.

Refreshments will be served.

Drive for Anti-War Signatures Gains 200 S. I. T. C. Names

Reported to be the greatest peace movement in history, the Women's International League for Peace and Freedom has initiated a drive to ob-tain signatures of people opposed to war. The campaign is being carried on in thirty nations of the world, and will be presented to the governments in those countries in the spring of next year.

The movement has as its purpose the presentation of concrete public opinion to the governments of all nations. The mandate states, "We, the people, are determined to end war. War settles no problems. War brings economic disaster, needless suffering and death to us and our children." The organization is non-political, and works among all types of people in an effort to obtain the signatures of all who agree with this platform.

Prominent people in the United States have already signed, among them being Sherwood Anderson, Louis Brandeis, John Crawford, Countee Cullen, Clarence Darrow, John Dewey, Paul Douglas, Roland Hayes, Joseph Wood Krutch, Robert Morris Lovett, Gerald P. Nye, and Oswald Garrison Villard.

Among the local signers are many

A. A. U. P. TO OFFER $25 SCHOLARSHIP TO OUTSTANDING FRESHMAN HERE

C. students by individuals or or-ganizations, the local chapter of the American Association of University Professors announces that it will give a $25 scholarship next spring to the freshman who is considered most promising scholastically.

Details of the award are not yet ready for publication, but are being considered by an A. A. U. P. com-tee, consisting of Robert D. Faneer, chairman, Miss Anne Marie E. Kraus, and Russell M. Nolan. It is expected that the award will be instituted as an annual donation. This is the first time the organization has ever offered a scholarship here.

The purpose of the scholarship, ac-cording to its terms, is to raise the scholastic level of the college.

Complete and specific details con-cerning requirements and qualifica-tions for the $25 fund will be an-nounced shortly after the New Year.

Marjorie Brown, Soon to Enter George Peabody College, For Three Years Prominent In Activities Here

Outstanding in Dramatics, Music, Journalism and Literary Work on Campus

When Marjorie Brown leaves Car-bondale within the next few weeks to complete work on her Bachelor's degree at George Peabody College, Nashville, Tennessee, S. I. T. C. will lose one of its prominent seniors and one of the most active students in school. She has taken part in jour-nalistic, dramatic, and social activi-ties on the campus and has contrib-uted her part musically by playing in the orchestra for three years.

Miss Brown has been a reporter on the Egyptian staff and served as society editor last year. She was one of the runners-up for this year's editorship of the paper and is a member of Mu Tau Pi, the journalis-tic fraternity on the campus. Last year she was feature editor of the Obelisk.

She has been an active member of the Zetetic Literary Society since the time she entered college, holding various offices in the organization and taking active part in its pro-grams.

Miss Brown is the daughter of W. O. Brown, head of the S. I. T. C. rural training schools depart-ment.

She also joined Strut and Fret, the dramatic club, during her freshman year, when Little Theatre was organized and took the place of that organization, she was one of the charter members. She has taken part in various dramatic productions including the Homecoming plays, "All's Fair" and "Tune In," and the Zetetic plays, "The Swan," and "Arms and the Man." Her portrayal of Catherine Petkoff in George Bernard Shaw's satiric comedy, "Arms and the Man" was probably her out-standing performance.

Miss Brown will be missed by every group of which she has been a member, not only because she is a capable worker, but because she has an ability for wit, irony, and sarcasm that enlivens any gathering. S. I. T. C. is losing an outstanding per-sonality and Peabody is to be con-gratulated on adding Miss Brown's name to its rolls.

Dr. Marie Hinrichs Has Handled Forty Patients In One Morning

College Physician Engaged In Research On Malaria In State

By FRANK SAMUEL

"Forty patients in one morning is a big job," says Dr. Marie Hinrichs, S. I. T. C. physician.

"And that was, on an average, the number I handled when I worked in one Chicago clinic."

Dr. Hinrichs's hometown is Chicago, and most of her work is connected with institutions of that city.

Having received her A. B. from Lake Forest, Dr. Hinrichs obtained a Ph. D. from Chicago in 1923, and later, in 1934, her M.D. from Rush Medical College. For two years she worked in a National Research Fellowship organization. In addition to this she has had eight years of research experience, two years having been spent with the General Electric Company in a research on light.

"My inclinations are toward research, as you can see by my former work," Dr. Hinrichs remarked, "and all my spare time is devoted to this. At present we are working here on a malaria project, checking up on college students, trying to find out the cause of the life and how it is most prevalent. Because of the rivers and little deltas, Southern Illinois is a malaria belt in itself."

Dr. Hinrichs has taught three years in public schools and one year at Vassar. Once a reporter misquoted her in saying that she had discovered how to create life and had done so. "I made the front page of the Herald-Examiner, and I had reporters around my door for days," said Dr. Hinrichs, "and ever since then I've had no faith in reporters." This was my cue, so I laughed, thanked her, and bade her goodbye.

Another Rare Specimen To Be Found in Museum

This week there is an exhibition in the S. I. T. C. Museum of a live specimen which, according to Fred Cagle, assistant custodian, has never been known to be in this or any other museum in this part of the state. Although he has been unable to classify it, it appears to be some kind of a tree-frog. It was brought into a Marion grocery store on a load of bananas.

"This little bright green specimen, which is a few inches long, has very long legs, equipped with vacuum sacs, with which it can attach itself to leaves. It can also extend its projectively colored eyelids over its brilliant red and black eyes so that they cannot be seen. Mr. Cagle revealed that all this harmless creature has eaten thus far is cabbage worms. He also stated that, "There is an advantage in having glass cages for such purposes since people can see just what valuable specimens look like before they die or are killed." This is a unique feature of the S. I. T. C. museum, for through Mr. Cagle's efforts, he has been able to keep specimens alive by providing as nearly as possible natural conditions for them in glass cages.

CROSS FIRE

By JASPER CROSS

The United States received its annual Christmas present from the allied nations of Europe Saturday in the amount of $230,453. This represented the interest on the war debt of Finland, who seems to be the only foreign country which retains the old Christmas spirit of paying its debts.

It is estimated that that sum represents approximately one cent on each $42 owed to the United States on war debts.

Among the prominent countries which failed to contribute were Great Britain, defaulting to the extent of more than 600 million dollars, and France, who failed to pay her $250,000,000.

The total amount receivable by this country would have been $365,414,177, which represents the interest on the total debt of $22,000,000,000.

The principal argument advanced by the allies for the non-payment of their obligations is that due to the failure of Germany to fulfill her reparation agreements, they are unable in turn to meet their interest payments.

The St. Louis Globe-Democrat, in an editorial, advances what is evidently considered a ray of hope in the statement that "So long as the debt situation stands as it is, our European friends won't come borrowing for another war."

State common schools are to be helped in Illinois this year by an added appropriation from the state. The amount of the state taxes received apportioned to the schools was increased from $19,500,000 to $23,000,000 by the new state distributive fund law.

The new plan also provides that the total amount given to a school must be used by that school during that year, thus providing a steady high level of equipment and teaching.

After having been pushed off the front pages for some time, Japan again breaks in to share the time light with Italy in the squabble for the title of World Enemy Number One.

The latest bid of the Japs for greater world power has been flatly rejected by the international naval conference meeting in London last week. At the conference, Japan asked for equal naval strength with Great Britain and the United States. The vote of the four other great powers, Great Britain, United States, France, and Italy, was unanimously against allowing naval parity. It was understood that Great Britain was the leader in the opposition to the Japanese request.

At the same time come signs of dissection in the far-flung empire of Great Britain. As well as a troubled domestic status, the British government has to contend with native riots in India and Egypt. DEBATE CLUB HOLDS XMAS PARTY MONDAY

Follows Appearance Here of Sparta High Debaters

Three activities characterized the meeting of the S. I. T. C. debate club last night, with the first part of the program consisting of a debate between the affirmative and negative teams of the Sparta high school. Immediately following the debate, the members of the club went to Miss Martha Scott's cottage at the Midland Hills Country Club for their Christmas party and a short ceremony in honor of Miss Julia Jonah, who recently resigned as co-sponsor of the club.

The Sparta debaters, coached by Mr. Frank B. Allen, presented their arguments, and the members of the S. I. T. C. club criticized them, considering both argument and presentation. They debated the regular high school question.

The high point of the party at the country club was reached when Miss Evelyn Miller, president of the Debate Society, presented Miss Jonah with a copy of three of Clifford Odets' latest plays: "Awake and Sing," "Waiting for Lefty," and "Till the Day I Die."

The book was given by the entire club as an indication of appreciation for the vast amount of time and work that Miss Jonah has devoted to the organization during the years that she has acted as sponsor.

When Miss Jonah began her work the men and women each had a separate club and the climax of the season was reached in the spring when the clubs debated each other. Since that time the Illinois and Forum has consolidated into the S. I. T. C. Debate club and now have a regular inter-collegiate schedule. This year is the first time that the debate organization has had a fund to finance its trips.

The festivities were closed with a gift exchange in which every person present took part. During the evening quantities of cider, cookies, and marshmallows were consumed.

Harry Deck Talks At Modern Problems Club Meeting

Harry Deck, secretary to Congressman Kent E. Keller, spoke before the Modern Problems club last Thursday night on the personal influence of politics. Emphasizing the importance of distributing patronage to the constituency in the right manner, Mr. Deck proceeded to outline his work.

Much of the correspondence directed to the congressman is destined for the waste basket before he ever sees it, contrary to popular opinion. Many of the requests are for jobs, but Mr. Deck insisted that politics plays a very small part in determining who gets the available positions. "I have never seen any corruption in politics," in fact, I have never seen any opportunity where corruption could enter in," the speaker said. The Modern Problems club has admitted the following students into the organization: Rose Paige, Betty W. Jones, Eugene King, Anna Mae Lively, and Marion Lipscomb. The next meeting of this club will be held January 9.

Wailing Wall

Conducted by Virginia Spiller

Dear Wailing Wall:
It is very seldom that the student body gets an opportunity to read editorials in the Egyptian. Last week, however, I read one which struck me like a thunderbolt from a clear sky. I am sure that the entire student body was amazed at its rationality. I am speaking about the editorial entitled "For American Olympic Participation."

Yet indeed! The brilliance of the article was such that it must have electrified the scintillations of the heavenly bodies, its Christian attitude would certainly have put the good Jesus to shame (the Lord forgive me if I am incorrect). His rich autocrat must have made all its readers intellectually hungry. And its novel logic (it is new to me, though sane and infallible) will certainly be an outpost of modern thinking.

Through the whole article with its magnificent splendour, its soothing transcendentalism, and its melodious harmony should be preserved in its entirety under seven golden locks, what I cherished most was the beauty of its keynote—"Sportsmanship."

I used to have a faulty notion of that word. No, I didn't know what sportsmanship meant. Can you beat it? I am just awakening to the fact that perhaps I am getting a college education after all. Sportsmanship! Why, yes, I know what that means now! Let me give you an example: If one of your neighbors should thrust a fork in the back of another neighbor because the latter's dog barked at the former's chickens sportsmanship demands that you invite the former to dinner and let the latter suffer. That's his business you know.

Here's another example: If you were to see a drunken man chasing his wife down the street with a ball-bat and you were a good sport, you would snuff at his abuse and after his pursuit you would assist him to get his mind off domestic troubles. His wife? That's her business.

Here's another example: If you know your neighbor to be a liar, a thief, a murderer, or a maniac and he should ask you to have tea with him (beer and crackers would do). Why, my all means don't refuse to go. What has his character to do with sportsmanship? And if he should ask you what sort of an entertainment you like best, suggest to him dancing to the tune of "Who's afraid of the Big Bad Wolf?"

See there! Isn't that beautiful? Oh, how I wish I were a Tolstoy! I should write some ecstatic Christian verses on the editorial and should sing for it eternal praises.

Respectfully,
JEAN SABA

Dear Wailing Wall:
It's about time someone protested against a racket that's going on around here. This one doesn't need to be exposed, but merely commented upon.

This morning I took a book I paid $2.75 for at a local bookstore, to that store to trade in on a new book. This new book sells everywhere at $2.25—but in order to take care of "Uncle Henry's" sales tax, the price was conveniently placed at $2.35 and no mention made of the taxation that is said to be ideal. Well, I got a $1.50 allowance on the old book, which will be sold again at $2.35. In all probability, the gross profit being in the neighborhood of 83% if this not unlikely procedure is followed. But not being irritated at the small matter of 83% profits, a "modest" profit being good (100% Americanism, etc.) I was somewhat irritated at being charged 85c for a $2.25 book, on which I had $1.50 credit for the old book. Now it seems to me that the 10c sales tax, added to the publisher's price on the book, which I paid in full, was too high. Ten cents on a 15c purchase looks like a tax of over 13%. Instead of the meeker 3c tax that goes to Henry, our Uncle. Students who bought this same book for cash at $2.35 paid a racket fee of over 3 cents. If this procedure is followed on all the books sold over of the Maroons, and until well into the second period, the Swedes kept abreast of Southern. Fulton led a rally during the final minutes of the second quarter that brought the half-time score to 21-3.

Paced by Edwards, the S. J. T. C. quieted scored ten points in rapid succession, to start the second half before the Swedes counted at all. Campbell missed twice, but the home five then pulled rapidly away again.

The visitors scored several times in the last few minutes, but S. J. T. C. reserves matched these markers. Charles Broadway, giant sophomore center, got his first game this year. Broadway has been suffering from a charity home received in football. George Donahich drew his first starting assignment on a Maroon five, and turned in an excellent floor game.

Lloyd Corzine, a well built Centre, the freshman, was impressive of a fine crop of small, but speedy newcomers.

Perfect replaced Carl Pettigrew, who has left the Swedes, in the visitors lineup.

French Luncheon Tomorrow at Delta Sigma Epsilon House

The weekly French luncheon will be held at the Delta Sigma Epsilon house tomorrow noon. This will be the last of these luncheons to be given before the Christmas holidays.

The regular meeting of the French club, which was to have been held Monday night, was postponed because of the presentation of "The Messiah" the same evening. The next meeting will be held January 13.

1400 students, the proceeds would be inconsiderable. It seems to me that it isn't so, this racket of over-charging refugee students who have to live on $100, $200, or $300 a year. In a week or two I will describe the plan is vague at our neighboring teachers college in Carl Girard. If a similar system were used here, it would be the alive that would eliminate two itches—bookstores and sales taxes on books.

In the meantime, if any of you want a real place to buy books, I should suggest you drop a card to the College Book Company, Columbia, Ohio, who publish a catalog of rare bargains at second-hand and new text-books. I just ordered a $4 book for $2.75. I'm tired of getting ripped.

Yours truly,
MERLE MEDHURST

College News

UNIVERSITY OF BUFFALO
Buffalo, N. Y.

University of Buffalo co-eds have decided to go masculine so far as their winter apparel is concerned. A group of co-eds appeared on the campus in ski-pants. The boys protested and issued orders that girls should come decently attired or else. The girls refused to heed the warning and, consequently, three of the group were ducked in a snowdrift. The boys did not snitch the girls, who still persist in wearing the ski-pants.

UNIVERSITY OF ILLINOIS

The inter-fraternity council of the University of Illinois is conducting an investigation to determine whether or not their dubious honor of having the worst fraternity scholarship in the country is correct. The council is to determine whether other schools pad their scholarship records, or if Illinois' position at the foot of the class is right.

Norman Thomas, speaking at the Hill open forum, declared that "Fascism or war lies ahead unless the coming generations develop the capacity to harness machinery to conquer poverty and ignorance." He further declared that "The hope of the future is in a federation of co-operative commonwealths. This is not a new deal; it's a new world."

Paddling during "Hell Week" has been abolished at the University of Illinois. For one week preceding initiation, Greek pledges will live a life of retirement—no dates, very simple food, no speaking unless spoken to. Besides this, the pledges are required to attend lectures on various phases of fraternity life given by prominent people on the campus. The plan is to make the "Hell Week" program something of which to be proud, rather than ashamed.

MONMOUTH COLLEGE

Monmouth College faculty is sponsoring an honesty campaign on Monmouth Campus. It is to be based on the honor plan in effect at West Point, Princeton, and Washington and Lee Universities, with a few changes to suit the needs of Monmouth College.

McKENDREE COLLEGE

Three McKendree College seniors made the National College "Who's Who." Who's Who in American Colleges is a new publication which lists the names and a short biography of the most representative college students in America. The three McKendree students chosen were Kenneth Wilson, Florence Zahnow, Carl C. Bracy.

Northern Illinois Teachers College
Northern Illinois co-eds give their ideas on the "Perfect Man." One co-ed would have her heart thing something like this: "Tall, not particularly handsome—a good dancer—but butterfly—a little bit conceited and a good sport."

Another co-ed could go for a man like this: "Tall and husky, good personality, smart, silly, and have nice ears."

Charleston Teachers' College
Winter enrollment at Charleston has decreased. There are 186 people enrolled in the college. Last year there were 353 students.

C. C. C. Educational Advisers Meet

The educational advisers of the surrounding C.C.C. camps and the faculty committee, headed by Russell M. Nolen, held a meeting yesterday and discussed examinations to be given by S. J. T. C. to the campus members of taking college work.

There are about twenty-five boys in the neighboring C. C. C. camps who wish to enter college but lack the necessary amount of credits, and the faculty of S. J. T. C. has consented to help these boys. Faculty members are outlining courses in English, History, Agriculture, and Mathematics, and have given them to the educational advisers of each camp. The adviser teaches his classes in accordance with the outline handed down by S. J. T. C. and when the C. C. C. boys finish their courses of study, they will take an examination given by the college.

The examination will be graded by the faculty members and every C. C. C. boys who pass the examination will be given college credit.
